Projects

ZuxterX – AI-Based Study Platform | Tech: React.js, Tailwind, Python

March-August 2025

- Full-stack AI platform generating short notes & summaries via Gemini API, with social features (chat, posts, progress sharing) for collaborative learning.
- Built responsive mobile-friendly UI with 3D visuals (Spline), client-side PDF export, and deployed on Vercel with CI/CD.
- Problem and solution: Students struggle to find accurate answers on random platforms, so I created a dedicated platform for study-related queries.
- Live · GitHub

Technical Experience

- Solving Data Structures & Algorithms problems in C++ regularly on online platforms to build strong problem-solving and coding fundamentals for technical interviews.
- Building personal web projects using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, and MySQL to strengthen full-stack development skills.
- Following structured version control practices with Git and GitHub, including branching, pull requests, and clear commit messages.

Extra-Curricular

- Led a hackathon team as coding lead, coordinating development and guiding teammates through project architecture and implementation.
- Actively participate in LeetCode Weekly Contests to sharpen problem-solving skills under time constraints.

Awards & Certifications

- MERN Stack Web Development – Udemy (2025) Certificate
- EA Sports Software Engineering Virtual Experience Program – Forage (2026) Certificate
